Councillors accused of 'bullying'

TWO Lyme Regis councillors have been accused of "bullying and harassment" - both inside and outside the council chamber.

The accusation against councillors Owen Lovell and Ken Meech, two of the council's most experienced members, was made by former mayor Sally Holman.

Speaking at a highly charged meeting of Lyme Regis Town Council on Wednesday of last week, Councillor Holman alleged that she was "verbally assaulted" by councillors Meech and Lovell in the council car park at a previous meeting.

She said they cornered her over her support for

Lyme Regis Development Trust's intention to retain ownership of the Church Street premises, which houses the InSPARation Cafe, instead of selling the building and putting the money towards the cost of renovating the club for young people, a policy she supports.

Councillor Holman said she would be calling on the Mayor, Councillor Michaela Ellis, to ensure that such behaviour did not happen again.

Councillor Lovell said that in 33 years as a councillor he had had some "trying times" but he had never been accused of "harassment".

He advised Councillor Holman "to get out of the kitchen if she could not stand the heat".

BEAMINSTER town clerk Christine Bright has lived in Hawkchurch near Axminster all her life.

Before joining the staff at Beaminster Town Council, she worked as the finance officer for Lyme Regis Town Council for many years.

When not working in Beaminster, Christine likes to go walking and is close to completing a personal challenge to walk the entire South West Coast Path.

Here she talks about her walking challenge, her plans for Christmas and what she has most enjoyed in Beaminster this year.

Christine lives in Hawkchurch with her husband David and sons Daniel and Martin, while her daughter Lisa lives just up the road.

WHAT have been your highlights in Beaminster this year?

Sadly I am not a resident of Beaminster but in my position as town clerk I am committed to assisting members of the town council to achieve the best they possibly can for the town and this year the biggest achievement is the opening of the new pavilion in the Memorial Playing Field, made possible by the hard working and dedicated members of the Beaminster Community Centre Partnership.

The Square in the centre of Beaminster adds to the charm of this little market town and I am pleased that the long awaited enhancements to the Square are finally coming to fruition, albeit on a smaller scale than first anticipated but I hope they will provide base on which to build in the future.

WHAT would you like to see happen in Beaminster in 2011?

Continued success to businesses in the town, the museum, the festival and any other events planned during the year. We also have local council elections in May and I am looking forward to working with the new council.

WHAT three items are on your Christmas list?

I enjoy reading therefore there is always a book or two on my list.

For my birthday earlier in the year the children gave me a Ninendo DS and I have requested a couple of games and chocolate never fails to please

HOW will you be spending Christmas Day?

I will spend Christmas Day quietly at home with my husband and children. I also hope to spend some time with my two nieces Megan (aged eight) and Abbie (aged six) during the course of the day.

WHAT is your New Year's resolution?

I don't normally make a New Year's resolution although I made an exception in 2008 and I am pleased to say that nearly three years on I have not broken it!

60 SECOND INTERVIEW

HOW do you spend your leisure time?

I enjoy reading, puzzles, trips to the theatre and walking. With a friend I am attempting to walk the South West Coast Path, we have completed Poole to Torquay and a section of the north Cornwall coast from Bude to St Ives. The next major planned walk is the section from Bude to Westward Ho!, a total of 36 miles in April, which I am told is the hardest section of the SWCP therefore I have decided to make this a "Sponsored Walk" to raise funds for Marvellous Amateur Dramatics' next production

WHAT is your favourite West End Show?

As a Queen fan obviously We Will Rock You is my all time favourite, closely followed by The Lion King – the costumes are just amazing.

ARE there any you'd still like to see?

I have recently seen The Jersey Boys in the West End which was great. I hear there is a new show planned for the summer which I would like to see based on the film Ghost. I also have a trip planned to see Dirty Dancing in Bristol next October.

HOW have you coped with the snow?

The snow has not been too much of a problem, the difficulty is getting out of Hawkchurch but once on the main road I have been travelling to Beaminster via Bridport which makes the journey longer but safer than the lanes.

WHO would be your three dream guests at a dinner party and why?

For obvious reasons Freddie Mercury, my preferred author Martina Cole and Kevin Costner!

Councillors clash over youth club

Councillor Lovell was also called over the coals by development trust chief executive Marcus Dixon over comments he made at a meeting of the Strategy and Policy Committee.

At that meeting Councillor Lovell put on the record his view that all the youth club's problems could be solved if the trust sold the InSPARation Youth Cafe and invested the proceeds in the renovation of the premises.

He added that he did not want people "empire building at the expense of the young people of Lyme".

Mr Dixon described his comments as "a really invidious thing to say" and went on to explain that the trust policy was to use 17-18 Church Street to generate funds to meet the running costs of the youth club which could be as much as £20,000.

He said it was important that the town council gave financial support to the project and he hoped a meeting could be arranged in the week to come so they could explain to town councillors what they were planning to do with the building.

Mr Dixon concluded by saying it was a time for working together for the benefit of the community and not for "the dead hand of suspicion and resentment".

Councillor Lovell said his comments had achieved what he had set out to do - to get the matter in the public domain.

"The main thing is that the boys' club does open up," he said.

Bitten once

"Money is not going to be freely available and if Lyme Regis Town Council is going to put in £60,000 we want assurances on how it will be used and that we will not have to come back to this is three or four years."

And he added: "We have been bitten once by the Marine Theatre and we do not want to be bitten again."

Councillor Lucy Campbell said she was "really unhappy" with how Councillor Lovell conducted the meeting when he made his remarks about the youth club.

She claimed that he railroaded the discussion and did not give councillors the chance to discuss the matter.

Councillor Holman supported Councillor Campbell's view and pointed out that e-mails had been sent to the council, together with a letter from project leader Fran Williams, which were not distributed to councillors before the meeting as requested.

Town clerk Mike Lewis explained that there was not enough financial detail in the correspondence and they were now planning to meet the development trust to discuss the council's support.

The evening was organised by the Club for Young People fundraising group.

Chairman Terry O'Grady said: "A big thank you to everyone who came to the quiz night, to our hosts Rob and Debbie Hammon and Marion Bignall who wrote the questions."

No rubbish collections before Christmas

CHRISTMAS waste is expected to pile high in Lyme Regis, as the next refuse collection may not be until Wednesday, December 29th.

The snow and icy weather conditions meant rubbish was not collected on Monday and the town clerk Mike Lewis has been informed that it could be after Christmas before Lyme's bins are emptied.

Mr Lewis said: "Obviously this is difficult for everyone and the team at West Dorset are doing their best on this front. I will continue to keep in touch with them and, if a collection can be arranged sooner, I will use various channels to get the information out to residents."

Seagull-proof bags are available at the Tourist Information Centre and residents are advised to try and store their rubbish away in these or dustbins, rather than leaving normal bin bags on the street.

Anger over non-gritting of crucial access roads

By Philip Evans

A SECOND heavy snow fall in two weeks, with temperatures plummeting to minus 10 overnight on Sunday, brought more chaos to the streets of Lyme Regis.

Although the main road through the town was negotiable with care on Monday morning, the ungritted sideroads were treacherous with a number of minor accidents being reported.

One vehicle skidded into a shop at the top of town and a people carrier slipped down most of Woodmead Road before colliding with a wall and lamp post.

Residents of Woodmead Road expressed their anger that once again the gritting in their road was non-existent after Dorset County Council refused to add it to their route.

Mr Jim Sweetland told the View from Lyme Regis: "Once again the lack of grit in Woodmead Road caused several accidents - one could have had serious repercussions when a people carrier slid halfway down the road, mounted the pavement, hit a wall, carried on down the pavement, hit the lamp post and finished up in a wall further down."

"The seriousness of this is, had this happened 20 minutes earlier, 20 Woodroffe School children would have been walking down this road on their way home."

"This is not the first time this has happened. Last year only a few yards further up the road the same thing occurred, demolishing a wall at Councillor

Lucy Campbell's house - at that time the Fire Brigade were called

"I understood that Lyme Regis Town Council requested that Dorset County Council add Hill Road, View Road, and Woodmead Road to the gritting scheme. The town council tractor was used in other areas of Lyme Regis so maybe the council may think of having a grit pile to enable more roads to be gritted."

"It is now Sunday and still nothing has been done and I am sure the fire engine would find it difficult."

"If anything happens in Church Street area of the town, Anning Road and Woodmead Road is the main route in and out of Lyme Regis and should be gritted as such."

Another Woodmead Road resident, Danny Hopkins, said many of his neighbours, particularly those who were elderly were up in arms that the road had not been gritted.

Mr Hopkins said that public spirited residents had done their best to grit the road using the sand and salt from the new grit bin at the junction of Woodmead Road and View Road.

Hazardous

He told the View: "Last year we had a bad accident here in front of our house and fortunately no casualties. But for how long in these hazardous circumstances before someone is seriously injured. Only yesterday another vehicle slid sideways and collided with a lamp post."

"I hope the town council will take note of our views and for very little cost do something about it."

Town clerk Mike Lewis confirmed that the town council had asked Dorset County Council to add Anning Road, Woodmead Road and Hill Road to their gritting route, but they had declined.

However, they had added Clappentail Lane to the route, although the town council had not requested this.

Mr Lewis said the council's outside staff did grit crucial areas on Friday and Monday, with sand and salt provided by the county, but were hampered by the fact that only two workers were able to get into Lyme.

He also confirmed that discussions had taken place between himself and Council Owen Lovell, chairman of the the Strategy and Policy Committee, about the possibility of the town council taking over responsibility for gritting the side roads in the future.

The council will be discussing this proposal in the New Year.

Lyme came to a virtual standstill on Friday and Monday with banks and many town centre shops closed.

The snow also played havoc with the town's Christmas celebrations, causing the cancellation of a number of events, including the Town Band's annual Christmas concert on Saturday evening.

No more community rooms for Lyme, says resident

By Francesca Evans

A LYME Regis resident has objected to plans for two new community rooms to be built on top of the Marine Parade shelters as part of its regeneration project.

At last week's full council meeting, local historian Ken Gollop told councillors during the public forum that the only advantage of the new community rooms would be their views, which would be similar to that of the Masonic Hall or the Marine Theatre.

He added: "We already have over 20 meeting rooms or halls in Lyme so we do not need any more."

Mr Gollop listed one of the main disadvantages of the community rooms to be their "exposed position".

He added: "There is no vehicular access or parking - the nearest, if available, being at Cobb Gate and Van Alens Car Park, otherwise Woodmead Halls, Holmbush Car Park or Monmouth Car Park - quite a walk, especially in bad weather which can come at anytime of the year."

"Pedestrian access is awkward in rough or wet weather. Can you imagine carrying wedding cakes, champagne or artists' easels from the Cart Road to the rooms in a southern gale and pouring rain?"

Mr Gollop questioned the council whether they were going to allow vehicular access along the Marine Parade to overcome this problem. He also asked whether the council could afford the community rooms.

"We've had the financial disaster at the Strawberry Field, we're continuing to finance the Marine Theatre and now it appears we have trouble getting rent in from some seafront concessionaires."

"If you intend on charging no or low rents for the community rooms, we shall be subsidising it in the future."

"I cannot see how they will pay for the maintenance, cleaning and staff time, let alone generate income."

Mr Gollop asked councillors not to continue with the building of the community rooms.

"I think you will be wasting our money on this project, and I mean our money not your money, especially bearing in mind the financial restraints we are going through at the moment."

Mr Gollop's observations were noted by the council without comment.

■ CHEESEY TUNES: Justin Tunstall and Mandi St Clair listen to their festive tunes at the Town Mill Cheesemonger

Cheesey listening this Christmas

ALREADY fed up with hearing that same repetitive Christmas song?

At the Town Mill Cheesemonger in Lyme Regis, Justin Tunstall and his staff are trying to avoid this all too familiar seasonal irritation. The shop always plays music, but this week they guarantee non-stop Christmas music, with no repeats.

The shop's iPod playlist has a total of 649 yuletide ditties lasting 34 and a half hours – more than enough to ensure that Slade's Noddy Holder yells "It's Christmas!" just the once. There is about six songs for every type of cheese in the shop, which specialises in West Country artisan cheese, but also has traditional, and not so traditional, Christmas favourites, such as Wallace and Gromit Wensleydale.

Mr Tunstall said: "I've collected interesting and different Christmas music for about 30 years and this is my once a year chance to hear them all. I do have particular favourites, such as Dan Hicks' 'Rudolph the Bald-headed Reindeer' and Chris Difford's 'Let's not fight this Christmas'.

"Nonetheless, I shall refrain from playing them again and again. Unfortunately, Mandi St Clair, who will be helping in the shop throughout the week, isn't too keen on non-stop Christmas tunes! She can't wait for 4pm on Christmas Eve, when the shop shuts for a three day Christmas break."

Councillor pushes for regeneration scheme to solve traffic problems

by Francesca Evans

A COUNCILLOR has expressed his disappointment that a scheme to regenerate the Cobb Gate area in Lyme Regis was rejected.

At a recent Community Development Partnership meeting, Councillor Stan Williams put forward ideas for a regeneration scheme, which would improve traffic congestion problems at the bottom of Broad Street.

However, he lost the vote to take the idea forward with five votes to four, as many councillors were concerned at the cost of £6,500 for a project manager, commercial agent and cost consultant needed to develop the project.

At last week's full council meeting, Councillor Williams raised the idea again.

He said: "I was very disappointed that I lost this vote five to four. I put forward what I thought was a great idea. It's a fantastic scheme that would open up the square and make it an attractive area."

The Mayor, Councillor Michaela Ellis, asked Councillor Williams if he had anything new to add or if he was just repeating what was said at the previous meeting.

Councillor Williams said that as several councillors weren't at the previous meeting, and as it was a close vote, he should bring the matter up again.

Councillor Ken Meech, who did not attend the previous Community Development Partnership meeting, asked what the scheme involved. Councillor Williams said the scheme would include the regeneration of the public toilets, more parking spaces and space for coach drop-offs, and would possibly involve the Tourist Information Centre moving into the square.

He added: "It would bring many more people into the town centre without blocking it up."

Councillor Daryl Turner reminded the council that they were not supposed to be discussing anything that was not already on the agenda.

Councillor Williams said they should not dismiss the idea and re-iterated a point that Councillor Lucy Campbell made at the previous meeting – money had already been spent on reports about traffic management schemes in the area, and these should be used while still relevant.

"We need to look into the long term future of the town. What kind of council are we if we're not looking to the future because of the money, when we have spent money on it already?"

Councillors did not discuss the item any further.

Santa sleigh raises highest total in nine years

FATHER Christmas raised £613 for the Special Baby Care Unit at Dorchester Hospital when he toured Lyme Regis last week.

The annual Santa sleigh, organised by Neville Causey of Hunter's Lodge, brought a smile to faces young and old and achieved the highest collection for nine years.

Mr Causey said: "As in all things, there are rising costs involved with providing the sleigh.

"I would like to personally thank the main sponsors of the sleigh this year - Lyme Regis Regatta and Carnival, Sparkbright Ltd and Coastal Gardens, as well as the continued support of Dave Ostler for the use of the towing vehicle, John Broome Associates for the use of their trailer, the Karizma Majorettes for the loan of their music system, and finally my family."

Time to think about what kind of theatre Lyme wants

I AM extremely grateful for the extensive coverage and the supportive editorial note about the Marine Theatre in the last two issues of the View From Lyme Regis. May I now take the opportunity to summarise where we are and what we plan for the medium and longer term future.

When I spoke to the town council about our current financial issues I was careful to begin by saying that what was remarkable was not that I was there, but that I hadn't been there before. Support from our town council has been nothing short of magnificent but they, and we, have always understood that running a professional theatre and, at the same time, meeting the diverse needs of local groups and audiences, would need significantly more funding.

I say again that we are seen as one of the three main arts providers in West Dorset but we exist on less than half the core funding of the two others, while providing more events and attracting more visitors than either. This has been the rationale behind approaches to the Arts Council and to WDDC. We could not have been more persistent in the pressing of our claims to WDDC; it has been a four-year campaign. I am dismayed that they have not been willing to acknowledge our case thus far but we are, at least, promised a full review at the end of 2011 and there may be reason for optimism.

I am also optimistic about the fact that West Dorset are consulting on our suggestion that a small levy on their Lyme Regis car parks could meet the needs of Lyme Regis people, not just for the benefit of the theatre but for the Woodmead Halls, the youth club, B Sharp! and many other of the entirely worthy organisations which this small community manages to sustain.

At the end of the day, however impressive our professional programme and however many of our 22,000 customers may come from outside Lyme, this theatre is nothing if it is not meeting the needs of our local community. The LymeArts Community Trust originated in 2002 from the very clear wish of the people of this town for a theatre of the kind which we have tried to manage for the past eight years.

We do think that now may be the time to open up the debate again about what sort of theatre the people of Lyme Regis want for their town and to this end we will be holding an open day and consultation, probably in early March. Out of this will come, we hope, a new and sustainable vision, new recruits for our volunteers and our Theatre Friends organisation and, particularly, two or three people who might be willing to act as trustees.

This has been a very enervating few months at the theatre but our determination - staff, trustees, Friends and volunteers alike - to give this town the theatre it wants and deserves, is undimmed.

Spirits lifted at football club after auction raises £3,000

LYME Regis Football Club fundraising committee members Heather Larcombe, Lucy Coombe and Francesca Evans pictured with auctioneer Simon Flux

LYME Regis Football Club raised over £3,000 at a Christmas auction on Saturday night.

Despite the snowy weather conditions and lower turnout, members and supporters raised more than last year's event with the money going towards the club's ongoing refurbishment project.

Auctioneer for the night was Simon Flux and top items included a signed Paul Scholes photo, which sold for £95, other sports memorabilia, vouchers for local restaurants and attractions, hampers, and a black and white photo of the Cobb printed on aluminium, which sold for £100.

The auction lifted spirits at the club, which suffered £5,000 worth of damage in a storage container fire the previous weekend.

Chairman Howard Larcombe said: "Thank you to all who donated items for the auction, to all those who came in the snow to spend their money and to Fluxy who did a great job as auctioneer."

"It was a great night - the auction and raffle raised £2,263 and the bar made about £1,000. The event has really lifted spirits at the club just before Christmas."

Lyme's First Team will compete in the Coronation Cup Final against Perry Street at Combe on December 27th and a party with Christmas draw will be held afterwards at the Davey Fort.

Local schools celebrate the festive season

■ PARTY SPIRIT: Above and below, St Michael's Primary School students enjoy their lunch

by Francesca Evans

EXCITED youngsters from local primary schools enjoyed Christmas lunches last week before breaking up for the holidays.

St Michael's Primary School in Lyme Regis had their traditional turkey lunch on Wednesday and had fun pulling crackers together.

Children from Mrs Ethelston's Primary School in Up-lyme ate their turkey roast and mince pies in the village hall on Thursday afternoon. The students made their own Christmas hats for the occasion and played puzzle games while waiting for their lunch to arrive.

■ TOP HATS: Children from Mrs Ethelston's Primary School show off their homemade hats

■ CHILDREN of St Michael's Primary School in Lyme Regis celebrated the festive season with their annual carol service on Tuesday evening.

Family and friends of the students were welcomed to St Michael's Parish Church by the school's new headteacher, Annabelle Grose.

Readings were then given by members of school staff, governors and pupils, and the audience enjoyed carols accompanied by Lyme Regis Town Band.

Highlight of the evening was the infant children's nativity play, called "The Landlord's Cat". The play gave a modern twist to the traditional story, with a mixture of favourite carols and upbeat tunes, including some brave solo performances.

The evening was finished with prayers from the children and a blessing from the Reverend Jane Skinner. There was also a retiring collection in aid of the RNLI, followed by a raffle and refreshments in the church hall.

Weather plan slips away

FEELINGS are running very strong in certain corners of the town over the gritting of the roads, or should I say, the lack of gritting, following the second heavy snow fall this month.

Things were pretty chaotic when Lyme was hit by snow in January with little or no grit available for the side roads.

Since then, the town council has worked hard to be better prepared by acquiring and filling grit bins at critical places around the town. But they

by Philip Evans

failed to persuade Dorset County Council to extend their gritting route to take in areas such as Woodmead Road and Anning Road.

The severity of the second blast this week, however, has highlighted the frailty of Lyme's winter contingency plans and the View was inundated with complaints on Monday about the dangerous state of the side roads.

Budgetary restraints prevent the county council doing much more than the main road through the town. The town council has no statutory requirement to grit the roads and footpaths, other than those they own such as the public gardens and the cemetery.

But councillors recognise that they do have a duty of care towards the people who live in the town and outside staff have been deployed to grit other areas such as Staples Terrace, where there is a high proportion of elderly, Sherborne Lane and Hill Road.

One of the problems is that, unlike in years gone by, not all council staff live in Lyme and some of them were unable to get into work.

We also received many complaints about the pavements in Broad Street not being treated which forced people to walk in the road.

There was a time when householders and shopkeepers kept the bit of road outside their premises clear, but that does not seem to happen now.

Some also argue that there is just not enough sand and salt in the town, which will account for a number of instances of people driving to a convenient grit box and helping themselves.

Woodmead Road was at its most treacherous again with one vehicle sliding from top to bottom, colliding with walls and lamp posts on the way down.

But we have to accept that the snow was much more severe than we are used to - or indeed prepared for. We are just not used to getting such heavy snowfalls every year - certainly not three times in a year.

Perhaps this is going to be the norm in the future as the seasons seem to be more extreme each year. That being the case, the town council may have to rethink their winter plan again and I'm pleased to hear that Owen Lovell, chairman of the council's policy making committee, is already in talks with the town clerk about the town council's future policy.

More gossip on the election front...

SURPRISE of the week on the election front - local businessman George Symonds will be contesting one of the two Lyme Regis seats on West Dorset District Council in next May's local elections as an official Conservative candidate. Sitting member Daryl Turner will be the other Tory candidate.

I say "surprise" because former Tory councillor Owen Lovell also went before the local branch panel and didn't get selected as one of the Lyme candidates.

Owen lost his seat, along with fellow Tory councillor Ken Meech, at the last district elections when they were beaten by Daryl Turner (then a Liberal Democrat) and independent Pat Hicks whom I think will also be putting his name forward for the district council next May.

George Symonds has been taken an increasing interest in local politics in recent times and is no stranger to council affairs, having fought long battles with both the district and town councils over issues on the Marine Parade where he runs the Amusement Arcade.

On the town council front, local painter and decorator Terry O'Grady has tells me he is definitely standing for the town council as one of six who will be fighting as a group with the intention of improving youth provision in the town.

It's starting to get interesting...

Lyme asides ...

EVENT OF THE WEEK: THIS would have undoubtedly been the Lyme's Got Talent Christmas Special.

We were so disappointed to have called it off because of the snow. At 4pm on Friday it was touch and go but when people started to ring in to say they couldn't get to the Woodmead Halls we had no choice and the heavy snowfall later in the day justified the decision.

We are now hoping to restage the concert late in January and will be announcing the date as soon as it is confirmed.

The concert would have featured most of the acts who appeared in the Lyme's Got Talent finals in August, with Bernie Fallon, who was the chairman of judges, and is artistic director for the highly talented Charmouth-based MAD (Marvellous Amateur Dramatics group), directing the show.

If the dress rehearsal was anything to go by, the audience were in for a real treat.

The rescheduled January concert will be an event not to be missed.

IN last week's column I mentioned I've got a new book out this week - copies should be available on Thursday if we can beat the snow and get them back from the printers.

"Year Book 2011 - A Year in the Life of Lyme Regis" will cost £4.95 and be available from a number of local outlets. It chronicles all that happened in and around our town from December 2009 to November this year.

I've also nominated a "Citizen of The Month" for each month and in next week's issue we will be publishing their names and asking you to vote for Lyme's "Citizen of the Year"

We will then present a specially framed certificate to the person who you think warrants the accolade of Lyme's "Citizen of the Year" for 2010 plus the chance to win a copy of the book.

Surprise proposal at romantic boat launch

A BOAT launching ceremony in Lyme Regis took a romantic twist when a student from the town's Boat Building Academy sailed into the middle of the harbour and proposed to his girlfriend.

Onlookers cheered as Matt Cotterill proposed to his partner Yvette. She said yes and was given a wooden ring, handmade by her fiancé.

Matt's boat was among nine being launched from the slipway on December 9th, following a 38-week course at the Boat Building Academy. The students had come from as far as Australia, as well as Germany, Norfolk, London, Hampshire and Portland, and ranged from caterers, construction workers, IT managers and policemen.

The launching ceremony was attended by friends and family, the Reverend Gavin Tyte from Uplyme and was filmed for BBC Spotlight.

Principal of the Boat Building Academy, Yvonne Green, said: "Not only will we miss the students but we will also miss their families and loved ones who have really made a difference and contributed to the Boat Building Academy community. Congratulations also to student Ross Doherty and his wife Elisabeth who are expecting a baby next year."

The next boat launch is set to take place on June 8th 2011 when a record number of 11 boats are expected to take to the water.

Talbot Road grit bin made 'real difference'

RESIDENT Nigel Ball has thanked Lyme Regis Town Council for providing a grit bin in Talbot Road, one of the steepest roads in town.

Horticulturalist Mr Ball used the public forum session at full council meeting to plead for a grit box as there were so many key workers living in Talbot Road.

When Dorset County Council agreed they would add Clappentail Lane to their own gritting route, deputy town clerk Simon Ratcliff arranged to move one of the grit boxes to Talbot Road. It was put in place just before the first major snow fall.

Mr Ball returned to the town council chamber last week to thank the council for their action.

Mr Ball gritted Talbot Road and told the council: "It made a real difference and everyone got out safely."

Mr Ball repeated his plea for some free parking between 9 am to 10 am in the main town centre car parks run by the district council.

"A lot of council taxpayers like to pop into town early in the morning to go to the bank or do a bit of shopping," he told councillors.

Driving instructor retires at age 88

LYME Regis-based driving instructor, Eve Hickman, has retired at the advanced age of 88 after 31 years of teaching.

Mrs Hickman qualified in Inverness in 1979 after the death of her younger daughter, Judy, who was knocked down on the A9 in north Scotland. She hoped that by teaching pupils to be safe on the roads she could prevent other parents from losing their children to dangerous driving, and has often been thanked by mums and dads for the "excellent" way their child has learnt to drive.

Mrs Hickman, who has taught in Lyme Regis for 25 years, said: "This job has been an absolute life saver! Getting the pupils through the test, particularly as so many of my students passed first time, but equally when they passed second time, was a joy itself. But the warmth, appreciation and gratitude they always showed and the wonderful cards and letters I received are something that I will always treasure."

Lunch for over 50s

OVER 50s are invited to a Lunch Club to be launched in Lyme Regis in the New Year.

The first Lunch Club session will be held on Friday, January 14th at Lyme Regis Baptist Church. On the menu will be slow-cooked beef casserole and dumplings served with creamed potatoes and a medley of vegetables, followed by fruit crumble and custard for desert.

The lunch, organised by Local Food Links Ltd. based in Bridport, will cost £5 per person. To book a place contact LymeNet at St Michael's Business Centre in Church Street or phone 01297 444570, or visit Alice's Bear Shop in Broad Street.

Lyme's maritime culture to be celebrated in New Year

A YEAR of events celebrating the maritime life, culture and heritage of Lyme Regis will be launched in the New Year.

Maritime Lyme will kick off with a family treasure hunt on Monday, January 3rd and regular events will continue throughout 2011.

The treasure hunt will start at 11am at the Lifeboat Station on the Cobb, which will also be celebrating its 150th anniversary in 2011. Lifeboat staff and crew will be welcoming visitors and offering New Year's refreshments.

On the Slipway, participants will meet traditional boatbuilder Gail McGarva, who will offer the chance to "beat a rivet" into individual planks of elm, creating a souvenir to remember Maritime Lyme's launch.

Parked nearby will be the Jurassic Coastin' Van – a mini information centre where participants can handle fossils and learn more about the Jurassic Coast. Weather permitting, members of Lyme Regis Gig Club will also be on hand to demonstrate the south west's fastest growing sport.

Moving onto Lyme Regis Sailing Club, which will soon be celebrating its 90th anniversary, where treasure hunters can meet the members and tour the facilities. The 2011 Atlantic Challenge team and gig club members will also be based at the sailing club on the day and will be happy to talk about their exciting activities and vessels.

From 1pm to 3pm, the treasure hunt moves along Marine Parade towards Lyme Regis Museum. En route from the harbour, drop in to see some of Lyme's artists and a very special ichthyosaur outside the beach huts.

At the museum, which will be open for free admission from 11am to 3pm, there will be more New Year's activities and prizes for successful treasure-hunters.

Other January events celebrating Maritime Lyme will include a junk boat race on Sunday, January 9th at 11am, the national RNLI SOS fundraising day on Friday, January 28th, when members of the local lifeboat crew will be hosting activities around the harbour, and regular Mary Anning walks and fossil walks.

Visit www.maritimelyme.co.uk for more details or, for dates and times of walks, contact Lyme Regis Museum on 01297 443370 or visit www.lymeregismuseum.co.uk

As well as mortgages they also offer various insurances, such as, Buildings & Contents, Life, Critical illness and Mortgage Payment Protection insurance, as well as commercial and liability insurances.

Albums of the year

by James Coles

1 | BAND OF JOY Robert Plant

Following on from the acclaimed Led Zep reunion and collaboration with Alison Krauss in 2007, Plant decided to go his own way again in 2010. He returned with an album that invoked the name of the psychedelic blues band he fronted before Zeppelin, full of bounding energy and bursting with unexpected eclecticism. The opening gambit is the terrific reworking of Los Lobos' 50s stomper, 'Angel Dance'. Other highlights include his take on 60s dance floor filler, 'You Can't Buy My Love', and the foreboding 30s gospel number, 'Satan, Your Kingdom Must Come Down'. His new band, complete with Patty Griffin's beautifully wistful vocals and Buddy Miller's country-tinged guitar, stamp their mark on the album's sound - my highlight of the year.

2 | LE NOISE Neil Young

It takes a brave man to put out an album these days that features little more than a voice and an electric guitar, albeit one cranked to the max. And although two of the album's tracks ('Love And War' and 'Peaceful Valley Boulevard') are plaintive, acoustic numbers - that do break up the sonic barrage - the majority of the record is a full-on, ear bashing assault. Never less than both gripping and honest, it's proof Young is still an artist to be reckoned with.

3 | LIGHTS Ellie Goulding

A generation or so ago someone like Ellie Goulding would have recorded a more traditional sounding debut album. She ticks all the right boxes as a singer-songwriter, but takes things to the next level by fusing these talents with a rather more modern sound - folktronica, if you will. Genuinely great songs that may be all glossy and pop on the outside but aren't at all superficial. They have heart and soul; strip them down, remove the blips and bleeps - they sound just as good with nothing but guitar and voice.

4 | INNERSPEAKER Tame Impala

On first listen, you'd be forgiven if you thought that this record is a long lost psychedelic classic, recorded on the West Coast in the late Sixties. You'd be right on one count - the bit about the West Coast - but this record doesn't come from the sunny shores of California, but Perth, Western Australia. Now Perth may be one of the most isolated cities on the planet, but surely it's heard some new sounds over the 40-odd years since Cream and Hendrix ruled the airwaves? Still, if it leads to records like this - who cares?

5 | SEASONS OF MY SOUL Rumer

Singer-songwriter Sarah Joyce has been trying to get noticed for some years, in many different musical genres. But at last she's found her true voice - and what a voice - under the guise of Rumer. Reminiscent of the pure, soft tones of Karen Carpenter - surely a marker for any female vocalist of this ilk - Rumer's vocals take her already effective, delicate songs to another level.

6 | I SPEAK BECAUSE I CAN Laura Marling

Laura Marling has been a darling of the so called "nu-folk" scene for what feel likes an eternity. Her music is often painted with the miserabilism brush but this record does offer the odd moments of optimism. However, few would disagree that Marling is at her most compelling when writing from a dark place. Songs like 'Hope In The Air' can't fail to get under one's skin or make you wonder how someone so young (Marling isn't yet 21) can write songs so mature and eloquent.

7 | POSTCARDS FROM A YOUNG MAN Manic Street Preachers

One last shot at mass communication. That's how the Manics summed up their manifesto for this, their tenth album. In the Britpop crazed mid to late Nineties, the Manics were more than mainstream, but their recent albums have seen a return to a more edgier sound. They never lost their intellectual fire or the need to treat their music as a cause; making the sort of album they wanted to and not what some record label exec wanted was always going to be policy number one. So, what have Manics circa 2010 come up with? How about an album with the integrity of anything they've ever recorded but also the lush strings, harmonies and melodies of their most accessible work. And as for "mass communication," I guess touting the album on Strictly Come Dancing means they've achieved that?

8 | WAKE UP THE NATION - Paul Weller

After 2008's undoubted attempt at creating his own 'White Album', it was anyone's guess in which direction the Modfather would head next. Turned out, next on the agenda was a dose of angst-driven 21st century punk that sounds as angry as anything he ranted with The Jam 30-odd years ago. And if it's hardly a surprise that Mr Weller isn't too content with modern life, the fact he's allowed the more avant-garde elements of this album's predecessor to slip through is. What on first listen may sound a more conventional Weller record has enough moments to prove he is still innovator and never one to rest on his laurels.

9 | HAPPINESS Hurts

Synth pop duos may sound a little too 1981, but Hurts don't care if their look - and sound - scares off the too cool for school indie kid types. They have the tunes. And that's all that matters. They embrace the whole pop ethos to a massive degree. They have huge ambition and even persuaded Kylie to sing on this, their debut offering. Rise above the obvious insults - wet look hair and a song that gushes about Verona in much the same way Ultravox did about Vienna - and soak up these widescreen, unashamedly pop, pop songs.

10 | OLYMPIA Bryan Ferry

It's been a while since Roxy Music made an album (1982 to be precise) and it seems Bryan Ferry still doesn't quite have the nerve to slap that name on the front of a new record. Olympia so easily could have been that LP. Roxy have been touring again for the last ten years and this new release does feature two members of the line-up. But instead of a tight group effort it boasts a string of big name guest stars - including Pink Floyd's David Gilmour, Jonny Greenwood of Radiohead, Red Hot Chili Peppers' Flea, and even old Roxy bandmate, Brian Eno - and makes this list for maybe nothing more than not imploding under the weight of expectation. Perhaps a little too much effort from Ferry to sound, well, effortless here. But there are some classic moments and, something tells me, this is the closest we'll ever get to that new Roxy album.

Morecombelake Art Group's Affordable Art

THIS year as a change, Morcombelake Art Group, instead of holding their annual art exhibition in August at the local hall, has been showing members' work at the Courtyard Gallery, Town Mill, Lyme Regis during the run up to Christmas, and the display will continue until Monday, January 3rd 2011. The exhibition will be open from 11am to 4pm Tuesday to Sunday and Bank Holidays, except for Christmas Day and Boxing Day.

The theme, with Christmas gifts in mind, will be Affordable Art for Christmas, and at this exhibition there will also be a range of member's craft work including original hand knitted gloves, socks and toys, hand embroidered silk phone cases and book covers, printed fridge magnets and mouse mats, and rag dolls, as well as paintings, prints and cards.

The exhibition is run as part of the Town Mill Arts Guild programme, and will be the final event before TMAG moves out of the Courtyard Gallery and upstairs to the David West Gallery in the Town Mill complex. Information about TMAG can be seen on the internet at townmillartsguild.com.

Lyme Regis always offers plenty for visitors to enjoy, so if you miss the opportunity to go before Christmas, the exhibition will be a perfect opportunity to go to the coast over the Christmas holiday, mooch about and get some brisk sea air, knowing that there is also shelter from the weather to be found at the Courtyard Gallery. Art Group members will be present as stewards, and thus available to talk about the work if you wish to know more.

Panto Players to perform Goldilocks

CHRISTMAS festivities wouldn't be complete without a visit to the pantomime, and age old tradition, which is often the first time children go to the theatre.

Bridport has had its own local pantomime for nearly fifty years since Bernhard Gale founded the Bridport Pantomime Players in 1966.

The first one Dick Whittington was performed at Church House in South Street. This was a huge success, as was the second one Cinderella, at which stage the decision was taken to move to The Palace just opposite where all the pantomimes were staged until 1999 when the cinema unexpectedly closed.

Bernard then adapted the small stage at The Lyric in Barrack Street and transformed it into a small theatre where the next seven shows were performed, delighting the audiences with its informality. Sadly Bernard died in 1996 and The Lyric closed, but at the same time the Electric Palace opened its doors once again.

The players returned and will be performing their 46th pantomime, Goldilocks and the Three Bears, in the first week of February. They will be performing every evening from Wednesday (2nd) until Saturday (5th) with matinees on Thursday and Saturday afternoons.

The pantomime is full of song, dance and comedy and is a family show suitable for all ages from the youngest to the oldest. To get away from the gloom of the winter why not get the family together and go along to your very own 'home-grown, locally sourced' pantomime. Oh yes you can!

Tickets cost £7 with reductions for children and senior citizens, and go on sale on Tuesday January 4th at Pets' Pavilion. The box office is open daily (except Sundays) from 10am - 4pm.

Poetry for Pleasure

by Frank McGarry

*No love that in a family dwells,
No carolling in frosty air,
Nor all the steeple-shaking bells
Can with this single truth compare -
That God was Man in Palestine
And lives today in Bread and Wine.*

THOSE are the closing lines from John Betjeman's lovely poem, entitled 'Christmas'.

Our old friend, Diana Shervington of Lyme Regis, who is well-known for her lectures on Jane Austen, has sent us this seasonal song.

CHRISTMAS LULLABY

*Slumber sweetly babe so dear
With loving mother Mary near,
The brilliant star shines out so clear
For her precious baby Jesus there
Sing Loolah-loo-lay, Loolah-loo-lah.*

*Wondering shepherds were led by that star
As it guided those three kings drawn from afar.*

*With costly gifts they knelt at his byre
While the shepherds gazed at the babe so fair
Sing Loolah-loo-lay, Loolah-loo-lah.*

*Mary must have been bemused
By all the attention her wee babe caused,
The creator of all the earth and sea,
Became a babe for you and me
Sing Loolah-loo-lay, Loolah-loo-lah.*

KAY Ennals MBE, a writer whose name will be familiar to many of our readers, particularly those of you who live in Dorchester, has written this Christmas poem for us.

CHRISTMAS IN DORSET

*It's Christmas in the villages
Through Dorset countryside,
There'll be turkeys, trussed for cooking,
And a baking of mince pies.*

*It's Christmas in the hillsides,
Where Hardy's stories told
Of Gloucester Lodge and Oxwell Hall
And Melstock's singing soul.*

*It's Christmas in the County Town -
Arcades and shops on show -
Where East Street and High Street West
Join the busy traffic flow.*

*It's Christmas in the churches,
Where carols will be sung
By loving hearts and voices
To greet the newborn Son.*

ANOTHER children's writer and poet, Eleanor Farjeon, is most famous for her lovely hymn 'Morning has Broken'. She wrote this Christmas verse in the 1920s.

IN THE WEEK WHEN CHRISTMAS COMES

*This is the week when Christmas comes,
Let every pudding burst with plums,*

*And every tree bear dolls and drums,
In the week when Christmas comes.*

*Let every hall have boughs of green,
With berries glowing in between,
In the week when Christmas comes.*

*Let every doorstep have a song
Sounding the dark street along,
In the week when Christmas comes.*

*Let every steeple ring a bell
With a joyful tale to tell,
In the week when Christmas comes.*

*Let every night put forth a star
To show us where the heavens are,
In the week when Christmas comes.*

*Let every pen enfold a lamb
Sleeping warm beside its dam,
In the week when Christmas comes.*

This is the week when Christmas comes.

Screening of Brit horror flick to be followed by question and answers with director

BRIDPORT'S Electric Palace will be offering a very special cinema experience in January with a showing of British horror flick, Spiderhole, and a question and answer session with the film's director, Daniel Simpson.

The phrase 'bloody students' has never been more appropriate than in Spiderhole, a stylish and ambitious horror written and directed by Daniel Simpson.

This British film follows four art students whose utopian ideal of living as squatters, free from rent, and free to party, turns into a nightmare when they discover their apparently abandoned mansion is concealing a hidden terror.

Spiderhole features a cast of up-and-coming British talent, including Emma Griffiths Malin (THE HOLE) and Reuben-Henry Biggs (STARTER FORTEN) and will be released this Halloween.

The film will be screened at Bridport's Electric Palace on Friday, January 14th 2011 at 7pm, and will be followed with a question and answer session with the film's director Daniel Simpson.

Tickets cost £7.50 available from Bridport Tourist Information Centre on 01308 424901.

Q&A | Director Daniel Simpson will be on hand to talk about the film

McIntyre and The Hoff confirmed for BGT

MICHAEL McIntyre and David Hasselhoff will join Amanda Holden as judges on the new series of Britain's Got Talent.

X Factor supremo Simon Cowell will also return to the ITV1 show, hosted by Ant and Dec, as a judge during the live stage of the competition.

Michael said: "I'm a massive fan of Britain's Got Talent and am extremely excited to be a judge on the new series. I was so thrilled when Simon Cowell asked me that I immediately wanted to run in to Ant and Dec's arms to celebrate."

Elaine Bedell, ITV director of entertainment and comedy, said: "Michael has established himself as one of the biggest names in comedy and entertainment in this country and, as someone who made his big breakthrough on the Royal Variety Performance, he knows exactly the pressures facing the acts on Britain's Got Talent."

The comic has been accused of being bland and has come under fire from the likes of Vic Reeves and Bob Mortimer, while others have praised his performances for their inoffensive "middle class" nature and lack of bad language.

Elaine also praised The Hoff, who she said had "been immersed in show business for many years".

The American singer and actor, who made his name as Michael Knight in Knight Rider before starring in Baywatch, has appeared as a judge on America's Got Talent.

Around 15 million viewers watched the final of this year's Britain's Got Talent which was won by gymnastic troupe Spelbound.

Michael has spent most of his career so far on the BBC, where his BBC1 Comedy Roadshow made him a Saturday night primetime star.

WILL Ferrell and John C. Reilly have added a comedic twist to David Bowie and Bing Crosby's classic Christmas duet.

A video was posted on website Funny Or Die in which the duo do an imitation of Crosby and Bowie's beloved 1977 Christmas special in which they sang Peace On Earth and The Little Drummer Boy.

In their version, Will plays Bowie and John performs as Crosby.

The mimicry is impressive, with almost every line exactly repeated. John fittingly dons a V-neck sweater, and Will sports Bowie's blue blazer and a British accent. The two stay faithfully in character until the end, when they curse at each other and Will knocks over a Christmas tree.

Billy sings of Skies Of Blue

SKIES of Blue, the debut single from local singer and pianist Billy Matthews, is out now on iTunes.

The song is a hauntingly beautiful, soaring ballad, telling of a lost love. With a slow-building dynamic, starting with a simplistic piano and Billy's heartfelt understated voice, and building into a full-on chorus with crashing drums and well-placed guitar solo, before finishing full circle, with Billy singing and playing out the last lines of his stunning first release.

Search iTunes for 'Skies Of Blue' by Billy Matthews, costing 79p.

SHOWING HIS TALENT | Billy performing at the Lyme's Got Talent event in the summer. He is due to perform at the follow up event which has been rescheduled for January.

Super Furry Animal for Bridport date

THE ever-eccentric Gruff Rhys, frontman of Super Furry Animals, is back to tour the UK with his third studio album, and his most ambitious yet. 'Hotel Shampoo' (released February 14th) is, like its name, drawn up by inspiration from the mini bottles of shampoo collected during 15 years of frequent hotel visits and the people met over the last 15 years of performing.

Adding to an expansive range of creative work, which has seen two previous solo albums, the Welsh-sung 'Yr Atal Genhedlaeth' and 2007's 'Candylion', the Mercury nominated project - Neon Neon, a number of high profile collaborations with the likes of Gorillaz and Dark Night of the Soul, the Danger Mouse & Sparkle-horse LP and finally, an experimental LP with a Brazilian TV repairman' Tony Da Gatorra, titled 'The Terror of Cosmic Loneliness' which goes hand in hand with Gruff's film-making debut 'Seperado'

Gruff Rhys is at Bridport's Electric Palace on Friday, February 25th 2011. Tickets cost £13.50, and are available from Bridport Tourist Information Centre on 01308 424901, or visit electricpalace.org.uk.

What's on the box?

IF YOUR idea of a great Christmas is being stuck in front of the telly eating mountains of turkey sandwiches and mince pies, here's a few unmissable programmes that will only make your festive viewing even better.

AN APPOINTMENT WITH THE DOCTOR

DOCTOR Who has been one of the Beeb's biggest success stories since it returned in 2005, and the annual Christmas special is now one of the first shows people look for when the festive edition of Radio Times hits the shelves.

This year's tale - 'A Christmas Carol' - sees Matt Smith's Doctor in a quest to save loyal companions Amy and Rory from a doomed space liner. Michael Gambon plays the miserly character the episode's title hints at, whilst Welsh songstress Katherine Jenkins makes her acting debut.

Dr Who - A Christmas Carol

A Christmas TV preview by James Coles

CLASSIC CHRISTMAS

ONE of my highlights of the Christmas TV schedule has always been the BBC's annual ghost story offering. This tradition goes back to 1968 when the Beeb adapted M.R. James' tale, Whistle And I'll Come To You.

Now recognised as a TV classic, this spooky offering tells the story of introverted academic (Michael Hordern) who comes across a strange whistle whilst exploring a cemetery on the Norfolk coast.

This year the Beeb has gone full circle, remaking the story with John Hurt in the lead role. Interestingly, the new version doesn't actually feature a whistle, so I'll be watching not in the hope of the production equaling the original, but to discover how Hurt manages to summon the terrifying apparition in the first place! Find out Christmas Eve (BBC2, 9pm).

DRAMA

I'M TOO young to remember Upstairs, Downstairs the first time round, but I do have happy memories as a child, watching the re-runs on Channel 4 in the Eighties with my mum and dad (sharply followed by half of That's Life, on the "other side," and then bed).

With ITV still reveling in the success of Julian Fellowes' Downton Abbey, how ironic that the Beeb's offering in this Battle of the Period Dramas originated on, yes, ITV. The LWT production first ran from 1971 through to 1975, and was massively successful, particularly in the States.

Rose Buck (played by the show's co-creator, Jean Marsh) is the only original character to return to Eaton Place in this new three-parter, having worked her way up to the role of housekeeper. The show also stars Eileen Atkins, the show's other co-creator, as Lady Maud Holland.

Wishing all our customers old and new a very Merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year

The last episode of the show, broadcast 35 years ago, was set in 1930; this new series is set only six years later. Luckily actress Jean Marsh doesn't look anywhere near her 76 years of age!

Other famous faces to look out for include Keeley Hawes (Ashes To Ashes) and Ed Stoppard. Catch up with goings on at Number 165 each night from Boxing Day through to December 28th (BBC1, 9pm).

IT SEEMS strange it's taken this long for David Suchet to star in an adaptation of 'Murder On The Orient Express', one of the more famous titles in Agatha Christie's series of Hercule Poirot stories.

If you're one of the few people who don't know whodunnit - or even if you aren't - tune in Christmas Day (ITV1, 9pm).

Suchet has made the role of the famous Belgian detective his own, and with this story and the forthcoming 'The Clocks' under his belt, he - amazingly - only has four novels left to film.

Not to be outdone, Julia McKenzie's take on Christie's other legendary sleuth - Miss Marple - also has a Christmas outing. 'The Secret of Chimneys' is on Christmas Bank Holiday Monday and 'The Blue Geranium' follows on December 29th (both ITV1, 9pm).

JUST FOR LAUGHS

EVERYONE enjoys a good giggle at Christmas and there's plenty of Christmas comedy to enjoy.

Rock 'n' roll legend Ronnie Wood and Hollywood star Thandie Newton are amongst the guests on Vic and Bob's festive edition of Shooting Stars (December 30th, BBC2, 9pm).

Originally intended as a one-off, John Sullivan serves up another serving of his Only Fools prequel, Rock & Chips, on December 29th (BBC1, 9pm).

Rodney's still a baby but Del's managed to get engaged to two girls at the same time. What it lacks in belly laughs it more than makes up for in some cracking performances - and Christmas just wouldn't be Christmas without the Trotters.

The seventh season of Peep Show comes to a close over the Christmas period with a special festive edition on Christmas Eve (Channel 4, 10:05pm) which forms part of a special evening devoted to the show. The night also features a new documentary and two classic episodes. The series concludes on December 29th (Channel 4, 10pm) where the hopeless duo see in the New Year.

The Royle Family make their annual return with a new special - 'Joe's Crackers' - on Christmas Day (BBC1, 9pm), which is followed by the first episode of Come Fly With Me, a new spoof documentary series from Little Britain stars David Walliams and Matt Lucas.

Other Christmas crackers to look out for include 2010 Unwrapped with Miranda Hart (Christmas Bank Holiday Tuesday, BBC2, 11pm) and The Rob Byrdon Show (December 30th, BBC2, 9pm).

And don't miss Ronnie Corbett and friends in The One Ronnie (Christmas Day, BBC1, 5:10pm). It can't and won't be the same without the late, great Ronnie Barker, but plenty of laughs are still guaranteed all the same.

FUN FOR ALL THE FAMILY

THERE'S plenty of family fun on the box over Christmas. But if you choose just the one show, I'm not sure you can go wrong with the new adaptation of Richmal Crompton's Just William, starring Daniel Roche of Outnumbered fame in the lead role.

This new four-parter begins on Christmas Bank Holiday Tuesday in a lunchtime slot (12:30pm) on BBC1. Clearly aimed at the kids, there will still be plenty of laughs for mum and dad.

AT THE MOVIES

SINCE the advent of DVD and multi-channel TV, the stature of the big Christmas premiere has somewhat lost its stature - chances are, you've already seen it.

But, nevertheless, there's a whole bunch of movies making their first appearance on terrestrial over the festive season. With The Voyage of the Dawn Treader now at the cinema, it's a good time to catch up on the Chronicles of Narnia with its predecessor, Prince Caspian (Christmas Eve, BBC1, 5:15pm).

The fourth and, so we're told, final Shrek film has just been released on DVD, but Shrek The Third debuts on BBC1 on Christmas Day (BBC1, 3:10pm).

Amy Adams stars in another film for all the family - romantic fantasy Enchanted - on Boxing Day (BBC1, 3:25pm) and Jim Carrey takes the lead role in Lemony Snicket's A Series Of Unfortunate Events on December 30th (BBC1, 4:45pm).

Older audiences may enjoy the premieres of sci-fi horror I Am Legend (Christmas Bank Holiday Tuesday, ITV1, 9pm) with Will Smith, and Cate Blanchett in Elizabeth: The Golden Age (New Year's Eve, ITV1, 9:10pm).

BEST OF THE REST

BBC2 offers two Boxing Day treats which will both be on my 'must see' list.

This year's Top Gear special sees the Three (Un)Wise Men in the Middle East, re-enacting a journey first made a couple of thousand years ago.

Jeremy, James and Richard drive through modern day Turkey, Syria and, err, Iraq in a trio of open top sports cars - hardly ideal for the desert terrain but it all adds to the fun.

Following this, there's a brand new TV movie, When Harvey Met Bob, which tells the story of the whole Band Aid / Live Aid phenomena of the mid-Eighties. Ian Hart stars as promoter Harvey Goldsmith, with Domhall Gleeson as the main man, Bob Geldof.

But for the ultimate Christmas treat, don't miss Swingin' Christmas (Christmas Day, BBC2, 9:20pm). This celebration of festive musical treats from the "golden age of swing" is presented by Michael Parkinson, and features The John Wilson Orchestra with guest soloists including Seth MacFarlane of Family Guy fame! The Christmas classics include 'Winter Wonderland', 'Baby It's Cold Outside', 'Let It Snow' and 'White Christmas'.

AND if you get bored of the leftover turkey and mince pies, try cold brussel sprouts with mayonnaise - the true taste of Christmas! (or see page 6).

Christmas Facts

* "HOT COCKLES" was a popular game at Christmas in medieval times. It was a game in which the other players took turns striking the blindfolded player, who had to guess the name of the person delivering each blow. "Hot cockles" was still a Christmas pastime until the Victorian era.

* "WASSAIL" comes from the Old Norse "ves heill"—to be of good health. This evolved into the tradition of visiting neighbours on Christmas Eve and drinking to their health.

* ONE in three men will wait until Christmas Eve to finish their shopping.

* ONE in six men would like to get rid of all the "gift-giving nonsense."

* A CHRISTMAS club, a savings account in which a person deposits a fixed amount of money regularly to be used at Christmas for shopping, came about around 1905.

* ACCORDING to a 1995 survey, seven out of ten British dogs get Christmas gifts from their doting owners.

* AN ARTIFICIAL spider and web are often included in the decorations on Ukrainian Christmas trees. A spider web found on Christmas morning is believed to bring good luck.

* AUSTRALIAN priests suggest saying 'Happy Christmas' instead of Merry Christmas since 'merry' often referred to drinking alcohol.

* BASED on a 1999 estimated population count of North America and Europe, on Christmas Eve of that year Santa Claus had to visit 42,466,666 homes in a 12-hour period—that's 983 homes per second.

* BASED on previous surveys, 17 per cent of partygoers will embarrass themselves in some way at the office Christmas party.

* BETHLEHEM is not only a town in Israel, but is also located along the banks of Afon Tywi in Carmarthen-shire, Wales.

* CANDY canes began as straight white sticks of sugar candy used to decorate the Christmas trees. A choirmaster at Cologne Cathedral decided to have the ends bent to depict a shepherd's crook and he would pass them out to the children to keep them quiet during the services. It wasn't until about the 20th century that candy canes acquired their red stripes.

* CHRISTMAS crackers were invented by Thomas Smith. He had imported some French novelties to sell as Christmas gifts, but these were not popular until he wrapped them up and added a snapper.

* CHRISTMAS Day in the Ukraine can be celebrated on either December 25, in faithful alliance with the Roman Catholic Gregorian calendar, or on January 7, which is the Orthodox or Eastern Rite (Julian calendar), the church holy day.

* CHRISTMAS is a summer holiday in South Africa. Children are fond of the age-old custom of producing pantomimes - for instance, "Babes in the Wood," founded on one of the oldest ballads in the English language. Boxing Day on December 26th, when boxes of food and clothing are given to the poor, is observed as a holiday.

* CHRISTMAS presents were known in antiquity among kings and chieftains, especially on the European continent. However, they have been common among ordinary people in Iceland only during the past 100 or so years.

* CHRISTMAS stockings - when Santa lived in Turkey, he secretly gave money to three daughters by dropping it down the chimney. It landed in their stockings which were drying by the fire.

* CHRISTMAS themed place names around the UK include Christmas Common (Oxfordshire), Holly Green (Buckinghamshire), Turkey Island (West Sussex) and Cranberry (Staffordshire)

* DURING the Christmas/Hanukkah season, more than 1.76 billion candy canes will be made.

* ELECTRIC Christmas tree lights were first used in 1895. The idea for using electric Christmas lights came from an American, Ralph E. Morris. The new lights proved safer than the traditional candles.

* ENGLAND has only known seven white Christmases in the entire 20th century. According to the records of the Meteorological Office in London, snow fell on Christmas Day only in 1938 and 1976. (The definition of a white Christmas in England is when one snowflake falls on the roof of the London Weather Centre.)

* FATHER CHRISTMAS - was apparently born in Turkey in the fourth century, but no-one is sure when he moved to the North Pole.

* FATHER CHRISTMAS always has a Nordmann fir.

* FATHER CHRISTMAS has two addresses, Edinburgh and the North Pole. Letters addressed to 'TOYLAND' or 'SNOWLAND' go to Edinburgh, but letters addressed to 'THE NORTH POLE' have to be sent there because there really is such a place!

* FORMERLY called Kiritimati, Christmas Island in the Indian Ocean is 52 square miles.

* FRANKINCENSE is a sweet smelling gum resin derived from certain Boswellia trees which, at the time of Christ, grew in Arabia, India, and Ethiopia. Tradition says that it was presented to the Christ Child by Balthasar, the black king from Ethiopia or Saba. The frankincense trade was at its height during the days of the Roman Empire. At that time this resin was considered as valuable as gems or precious metals. The Romans burned frankincense on their altars and at cremations.

* GREEKS do not use Christmas trees or give presents at Christmas. A priest may throw a little cross into the village water to drive the kallikantari (gremlin-like spirits) away. To keep them from hiding in dark, dusty corners, he goes from house to house sprinkling holy water.

* HALLMARK introduced its first Christmas cards in 1915, five years after the founding of the company.

* IN 1937, the first postage stamp to commemorate Christmas was issued in Austria.

* IN AUSTRIA and Germany during the 17th and 18th centuries, the tops of evergreens were cut and hung upside down in a living room corner. They were decorated with apples, nuts and strips of red paper.

* IN GERMANY, Twelfth Night is known as 'Three Kings Day'. In Mexico, the poinsettia plant is called 'Flower of the Holy Night'.

What shall we do with the left overs?

YOUR menu for the big day on December 25th has probably long been decided upon but what of that famous Boxing Day staple - Christmas dinner remnants. When I t'was a lad, the clean up operation would begin on tea time of the 25th and would involve cold sprouts and mayonnaise. I shudder at the thought now. So if by the time you sit down in front of Her Majesty you are wondering just how much turkey the cat will put up with, then here are some ideas for you.

Let's start with the beast that takes centre stage of most Christmas day tables. Turkey is a wonderful meat, and seriously under-used most of the year. Its size means you can find yourself with a lot of good, lean breast, while the contrast between the light and dark can provide interest and texture when used in other dishes. An outstanding use for the relics is to use it in a pie, preferably with ham - which many people also have around.

A festive food view by Richard Coles

A pie is an excellent thing to sit in the fridge in the Christmas/New Year week to feed guests. Once made, it is quick, easy, impressive even. Simply make plenty of shortcrust pastry (or even buy), and use in to line a deep dish and then bake blind. Meanwhile, make a thick Béchamel sauce and season with plenty of tasty herbs and spices. Add to it your cold turkey and ham, ensuring that it's not too wet so the mixture holds when you cut the pie. Now simply top with more pastry and bake. Perfect.

Secondly, I'm sure you'll have plates of veg here and there. You could go down the sprout and mayo route, but experience forbids me to recommend. Alternatively, there is soup, but I would plump for Christmas bubble and squeak. Basically, you need potatoes and greens, lightly crushed. You also, I'm afraid, need both a heavy bottom pan (preferably cast iron) and lard. As Clarissa Dickson-Wright says: "If you don't want to use lard then go and cook something else".

Olive oil et al will just leave you with mush, but a good hard fat will give you a true treat of a lunch before you begin to count calories again on January 1st.

Finally, find a simple ice cream recipe (essentially cream and sugar, although I also use egg yolks), but at the final stage crumble left over Christmas pudding in it. Personally, I'm not a fan of it in its normal state, but in suspension of frozen cream and sugar is fantastic!

So this year look at your left overs with war-time zest. Each plate of sad, unwanted grub can be a feast in itself during the week so the foodie celebration can continue. Whatever you eat this Yuletide, richest blessings for a very Merry Christmas.

Toyota scores double top with new Yaris T Spirit and SR

Moving into a new year, Yaris welcomes two new top-of-the-range models to its UK line-up, giving customers the option of a version that's a touch more luxurious, or one that has a bigger dose of sports styling. Both newcomers are based on the top-selling TR trim and go on sale in January with special launch prices.

T Spirit

An integrated, detachable TomTom satellite navigation system with touch-screen operation tops the check list of equipment features on the new Yaris T Spirit, which brings with it Bluetooth connectivity and a USB port for linking in iPods and other digital music players. In addition to the regular TR specification, the trim includes eight-spoke alloys, climate control, rear parking sensors and chrome surrounds for the front foglights.

Thanks to special 2011 launch prices from £11,695, all these extras are complimentary, resulting in a no cost upgrade from TR to the T Spirit grade.

Yaris T Spirit is available in three and five-door bodystyles with the full engine range: 1.0 and 1.33-litre VVT-i petrol and 1.4 D-4D diesel engines. The latter two units are offered with a choice of six-speed manual or Multimode transmission.

SR

Toyota Motorsport 16-inch alloys, rear privacy glass, a rear roof spoiler and chrome exhaust finisher mark the new Yaris SR down as a sportier proposition. That's not the complete story, though, as the spec' also includes the satellite navigation package, Bluetooth, USB port and climate control featured on its T Spirit sister model – plus a chrome and leather sports gearshift and chrome front foglight surrounds. Compared like-for-like with Yaris TR, the price premium is a modest £750.

There's a single engine choice – the 1.33 VVT-I petrol unit, with manual or (on the five-door model) Multimode transmission. Colour choices are Cirrus White, Chilli Red and Crystal Silver.

Sales and pricing

The new Yaris T Spirit and SR models go on sale in January. All are protected by Toyota's five-year/100,000-mile new vehicle warranty. Options include metallic paint, Vehicle Stability Control with Traction Control and rear disc brakes and the Yaris Protection Pack.

Panda crosses off another top award from the list

THE rugged Fiat Panda Cross has continued to demonstrate its popularity after scooping another off-roading honour – this time the Junior Crossover class in Total Off Road magazine's 4x4 of the Year awards.

Launched in 2008, the highly capable Panda Cross has continued to be a favourite not just among customers, but with media experts too, and it's no stranger to awards.

Total Off Road's judges praised the Panda's styling, handling, ease of controls and its punchy 1.3 16v MultiJet turbodiesel engine. The car's crisp steering, ride and brakes were also highlighted by the magazine's testers, as the Panda Cross beat 11 other vehicles in this class to the title.

"The Panda Cross has loads of style but plenty of substance too," say the awards' judges. "It's great fun in town, a rough diamond on B-roads and pretty acceptable on the motorway. And it can do remarkable things off road."

The Panda Cross is one of a long line of Pandas that have surprised and delighted customers for years," says Elena Bernardelli, marketing director, Fiat Group Automobiles UK and Ireland. "I am pleased that it is still collecting top honours – it certainly deserves them."

As with any Panda, the Cross's fuel consumption and emissions are exceptionally low. It returns 42.1 mpg in the urban cycle, 67.3 mpg extra-urban, and 54.3 mpg combined. The CO2 figure is 136 g/km.

Standard equipment includes ESP with Hill Holder, air conditioning, alloy wheels, radio/CD/MP3 player with steering wheel audio controls, and electric power steering. The Panda Cross costs £13,695 on-the-road.

Peugeot accident assistance comes to the rescue

AS the slippery roads and darker mornings and evenings signal a potential greater risk of having a road accident, Peugeot is offering a complementary accident assistance service to all owners, taking away all the negotiations with recovery agents, repairers and insurers that can compound an already stressful experience.

In the event of an accident, Peugeot owners just need to make a single phone call on 0800 92 32 999 to Peugeot Accident Assistance who will arrange for them to be recovered to their destination or home if need be. Peugeot Accident Assistance will also arrange for the car to be booked in at a Peugeot approved repairer, liaise with the insurance company and make sure all repairs are made to the manufacturer's standards.

Unlike many accident management companies who only provide free recovery and replacement cars to those drivers who can prove the accident was not their fault, Peugeot Accident Assistance will provide recovery and a replacement vehicle no matter where the fault lies.

Repairs arranged by Peugeot Accident Assistance will also protect owners from a hidden problem whereby repairs done with non-original equipment parts are not covered by the manufacturer's warranty in the event of later failure. This is increasingly common with insurer managed repairs because they are faced with huge price competition and the focus is on the cheapest repair.

Finally, once the car is repaired through Peugeot Accident Assistance, the repairer provides a full report to the dealer so they can recommend the best ongoing maintenance and servicing schedule.

Peugeot customers need do nothing more than make a note of the telephone number - 0800 92 32 999 - or they can pop into their dealer for a window sticker or key fob as a handy reminder.

Commenting on the service, David Higgins, Director - Parts & Service, Peugeot Motor Company, said: "When you drive a Peugeot, we want you to enjoy every aspect of the journey, but of course accidents do happen and the Winter is a particularly difficult time to drive, with icy roads and fading light. That's why we want to make sure all our customers know they can have a free helping hand at a distressing time."

Who does the fourth emergency service call in its hour of need?

With the UK road network grinding to a halt this month as a result of severe winter weather, the AA has called upon I.M. Group to provide a small fleet of Subaru and Isuzu vehicles to ensure key members of its staff can keep mobile. I.M. Group has arranged for four vehicles to be delivered, including a Subaru Forester 2.0 XS Auto and a Subaru Outback 2.5i SE NavPlus, chosen for their sure-footed permanent Symmetrical All-Wheel Drive systems and high levels of active and passive safety equipment. In addition, I.M. Group will supply two Isuzu Rodeo pick-ups: a 2.5-litre Denver Max and a 3.0-litre Denver Max LE Manual. With credentials that include a class-leading 3,000kg towing capacity, anti-stall technology and an electronically-switchable 4WD system (both high and low ratio) the AA can transport staff in comfort and, at the same time, take on the toughest towing challenges, whatever the weather throws at them.

The AA's Director of Road Operations, Steve Dewey, is very grateful for I.M. Group's support: "It's imperative we transport vital members of our team safely to and from our operational sites in Cheadle, Oldbury and Newcastle, Cardiff and our Basingstoke head office. The Subaru and Isuzu models will prove invaluable out on the weather-affected UK road network, allowing us to continue helping thousands of motorists stranded in treacherous conditions." Marketing Director of Subaru and Isuzu UK, Kenyon Neads, said: "We were only too happy to assist the AA, and we have every confidence they will be very impressed by the go-anywhere capabilities of the Subaru and Isuzu ranges, particularly during the big freeze. Subaru's All-Wheel Drive system and Isuzu's electronically-switchable 4WD technology will prove of enormous benefit as the snow and ice continues to plague many areas of the UK." For further information on Subaru visit subaru.co.uk, and for more information on Isuzu visit isuzu.co.uk.

MID-SEASON REVIEW

PREMIER DIVISION

(Reigning Champions: Lyme Regis)
LYME Regis will not be giving up their grip on the Premier Division title without a fight.

But as it stands South Petherton, still with a 100 per cent record, are in the driving seat. The return of striker Rich Hedditch from Westland Sports will only add to their chances of landing the championship for the fourth time in six seasons.

But Lyme (who have yet to play a home league game), Beaminster, Merriott Rovers and Ilminster Town Reserves are all currently in a position to mount a title challenge.

Strangely to 'big five' have only met on three occasions so far. Beaminster beat Lyme Regis 1-0 at the Memorial Ground but went down 2-1 at South Petherton's Lightgate Lane whilst Merriott Rovers hammered Ilminster Reserves 6-0.

So with so many crucial matches still to be played it could still be the most open title races for many years despite Pethy's apparent domination.

At the other end of the table both Combe Reserves and West & Middle Chinnock have yet to register a win this season and are favourites for the drop. The Chinnock's first appearance in the top flight has been hit by the loss of strikers Mark Cawley and Ian Masters who have both moved on to Castle Cary and Ilminster Town respectively.

With four teams Combe have a large squad and this alone could still see new player-manager Ashley Fussell and his side mount a bid for safety.

DIVISION ONE

(Reigning Champions & promoted: Farway United, West & Middle Chinnock)

DIVISION One looks like being a three-way race between Winsham United, Crewkerne Town and Millway Rise - although a consistent run could see Netherbury still re-emerge from the chasing pack.

Winsham have still to drop a point and have already beaten Netherbury and, perhaps crucially Crewkerne Town. The Tigers, the division's top scorers, also dropped two points at their Henhayes home in a 4-4 thriller with Millway Rise who showed their battling qualities to come back from 3-0 down.

At the foot of the table the appointment of new manager Tommy O'Hare has coincided with Thorncombe edging out of the bottom two.

Charmouth looked doomed, and a further drop to division two will do their rebuilding plans no harm at all. The Robins look set to be accompanied one from Lyme Regis Reserves, Ilminster Colts, Norton Athletic or even Thorncombe if their recovery stalls.

DIVISION TWO

(Reigning Champions & promoted: Millway Rise, Norton Athletic)

BEAMINSTER, bidding for an unheralded treble along with the Tommy Tabberer and Jack Venn Cups, appear to be nailed-on division two Champions.

The free-scoring Rainbows, have already banged-in five or more on five occasions in their quest for a third Division Two championship (others in 77-78 and 87-88). Unbeaten Shepton Beauchamp best placed amongst the chasing pack but don't write off Hinton or Crewkerne Rangers.

Meanwhile three defeats in four games looks to have scuppered Uplyme hopes of a return to Division One after an absence of four seasons.

The relegation issue seems to be settled already with Chard Rangers and Forton Rangers Reserves both playing division three football come next September.

DIVISION THREE

(Reigning Champions & promoted: Hawkchurch United, Crewkerne Rangers)

MISTERTON are one of only two teams still boasting a 100 per cent record and as such are clear title favourites to land the division three title for a second time.

Missy will be joined by either Luso-Chard, resurgent Chard United or Crewkerne Reserves.

At the foot Millway Rise Reserves and Winsham United Reserves look to be under the most threat.

DIVISION FOUR

(Reigning Champions Chard United Reserves, promoted - Farway United Reserves)

SHEPTON Beauchamp Reserves, with five straight wins, are one of the entire league's form teams.

But a terrible start which culminated in a 11-1 mauling at West & Middle Chinnock Reserves could come back to haunt them.

The Chinnocks and Hinton Reserves or Waytown Hounds look to be favourites for promotion.

COUNTY CUPS

DORSET INTERMEDIATE

LYME REGIS are safely through to the semi-finals of the Dorset Intermediate cup and will be accompanied by Beaminster if they can overcome Fern-down sports in the quarter-final replay.

DEVON INTERMEDIATE

FARWAY United, the league's only remaining representatives, are scheduled to entertain Exmouth Town Reserves in an Eastern Area semi-final on January 8th.

SOMERSET JUNIOR

HOLDERS South Petherton were gunned down by Bath Arsenal at the last 16 stage.

SOMERSET INTERMEDIATE

THERE'S 'one man standing' in the Junior Cup. Winsham United are due to travel to Tor for a last 16 tie on February 5th.

CHARD HOSPITAL CUP

Lyme Regis 4 Ilminster Town Reserves 0
TWO goals from French striker Julien Simier and singles from Joe Bond and Joel Gostling, celebrating his return from a spell with Axminster Town, secured the Seaside's with their second Chard Hospital cup triumph in three seasons.

CORONATION CUP

HOLDERS Lyme Regis are due to meet Perry Street in this season's final at Combe on Monday, December 27th at 11am.

Seven-time winners Lyme have disposed of Merriott Rovers 4-2, Combe Reserves 2-1 and Farway United 2-1 along the way. Meanwhile Street, winners in 1966-67 and 1970-71, saw off Misterton on pens after 2-2 draw, Barrington 2-1 and Ilminster Town Reserves 4-0 last weekend to book their place.

CHALLENGE CUP

Last season: Lyme Regis 2 (D.Rowe, J.Simier) Ilminster Town Reserves 0.
Barrington are due to entertain Perry Street in a quarter-final with all the other teams at the first round stage.

DIVISION ONE CUP

Last season: Ilminster Town Colts 1 (A.White) Netherbury 0
CREWKERNE Town will face Millway Rise in the Final at Thorncombe on Monday, January 3rd.

Lyme Regis Reserves beat Millway 2-1 in the semi-final but were ejected from the competition by a league rule buried deep in the hand book that states players must have played three league matches before being able to take part in a semi-final.

TOMMY TABBERER CUP

Last season: Dowlish & Donyatt 6 (L.Mears 2, B.Charlton, C.Butler, C.Lang, A.Rich) Forton Rangers Reserves 5 (S.Packer 2, J.Smith, L.Goodland, L.Richardson).
Quarter-final draw: Hinton v Shepton Beauchamp, Crewkerne Rangers v Hawkchurch, Forton Rangers Reserves v Chard Rangers, Uplyme v Beaminster Reserves.

KENNY HODGES CUP

Last season: Ilminster Town A 4 (L.Woodard, L.Paul, J.House, A.Cox) Winsham United Reserves 3 (R.Long 2, Ipen, P.Stewart).

Quarter-final draw: Shepton Beauchamp Reserves or Waytown Hounds v West & Middle Chinnock Reserves or Barrington Reserves, Chard Rangers Reserves v Chard United Reserves or Thorncombe Reserves, Hawkchurch Reserves v Combe B, Ilminster Town A v Hinton Reserves.

REG EGLON CUP

Last season: Thorncombe Reserves 4 (K.Smith, D.Rodway, J.Johnson, OG) Waytown Hounds 1 (M.Read).

Semi-finals: Barrington Reserves v Chard United Reserves, Waytown Hounds or Combe B v West & Middle Chinnock Reserves.

DAISY HUTCHINGS CUP

Last season: West & Middle Chinnock 3 (M.Cawley, N.Eckland, D.Hallett) Lyme Regis Reserves 2 (F.Thomson, L.Street).

A FIXTURE pile-up last season resulted in the PSL reducing the number of rounds by excluding teams from Division One in addition to the Premier Division. The teams are currently at the last 16 stage.

PICK OF THE LEAGUE NEWS

FIVE Lyme Regis players were selected in new manager Karl Diment's first pick-of-the-league squad.

Beaminster players were excluded as they were due to play against Ferndown Sports in the Dorset Intermediate Cup quarter-final replay.

As it was, the game, like all the others in the PSL fixtures list, was postponed. Full squad: Adam Berry, Jack Jennings both (both Merriott Rovers), Sam Dibling, Matt Hall (both Millway Rise), Adam Caddy, Matt Laing, Joel Gostling, Mark Bailey, Dom Rowe (all Lyme Regis), Lee Richards, Danny Rendall, Sam Bourne, Mark Tierney, Jon Hayter, Karl Diment (all South Petherton).

Things looking brighter - despite the snow

HEAVY snow has once again thrown the national hunt programme into chaos with Boxing Day racing, one of the highlights of the calendar in doubt following further heavy downfalls at the beginning of the week writes Stuart Broom.

However things are looking brighter for Bob Buckler's stable despite still not being able to find that winner that will break their current poor run.

Mizzurka who produced some exhilarating runs in bumpers last season to earn herself the much coveted 'black type' which enhances her breeding value considerably, made her debut over fences and finished a very creditable fourth behind two highly regarded horses in the Happy Christmas Mares' Novices' Hurdle at Exeter last Thursday.

Ridden by the newly-crowned BBC Sports Personality of the Year and Champion jockey A P McCoy, she didn't disgrace herself despite running a bit green.

"She was a little bit uncertain going over fences for the first time, so we dropped her out at the back to start with," said Buckler.

"She ran well but was up against two very good horses in Naughty Naughty and Kim Bailey's Silver Gypsy who won it, so fourth was a good result. AP who kept her in touch on the inside was delighted with her and said she did everything right and will come on for the run."

John's Gift making his debut over fences in the Vote A.P. McCoy For BBC Sports Personality Novices' Chase on the same card ran what Buckler described as 'a perfect run'.

Starting the 66/1 outsider of a field of eight, he made a few jumping mistakes to finish sixth. "He learned a lot from the race which is the main thing, and although he made a few mistakes the race did him the power of good."

Power Lord did well on his track debut, finishing fifth in the Free Bets At gg.com Novices' Hurdle at Towcester on the same day.

In very sticky ground the three-year-old ridden by Nathan Sweeney allowed the field to get away, but got back into it with some good jumping and was staying on at the end.

"It was a promising debut," said Buckler. "He jumped pretty well but for one hurdle and was staying on at the end, so we are quite hopeful."

The testing ground however put paid to Ready Or Not, another one making his debut over fences. Hampered at the first when he pecked, he started to make an impression but eventually the ground conditions got the better of him and he was pulled up two from home.

Mister Matt put in a decent performance at Newbury in the Powersolve Electronics Greatwood Charity Handicap Chase over 2 ¼ miles finishing a not too distant eighth.

"He did OK in a high class race and will come on for the run," added Buckler.

The Henley trainer hoped that racecourses would act sensibly about cancelling fixtures over Christmas.

"Boxing Day is big for all of the tracks that have fixtures, but I hope they will be sensible and think of everyone in making decisions about calling racing off early if there is no prospect.

"Trainers up and down the country will be working hard to prepare horses for the races, and it will be annoying for us all if we work flat out for no real purpose, particularly if cards are called off very late when there was no real chance it was going ahead."

Buckler has yet to decide which of his horses will be running, but expects entries at Wincanton and Fontwell, weather permitting.

WEST DORSET FOOTBALL WITH STUART BROOM

Magpies through to county semi

DORCHESTER TOWN 2 POOLE BOROUGH 0

Dorset Senior Cup Quarter-Final

DORCHESTER Town eased into the semi-final of the Dorset Senior Cup with a less than convincing 2-0 victory over Poole Borough in this twice postponed match.

After a goalless first half Jamie Frampton struck within a minute of the restart before Ryan Moss made the game safe just before the hour after coming off the subs bench.

Manager Ashley Vickers took the opportunity of giving Frampton his full debut whilst giving Jamie Mudge a full 90 minutes for the first time since his return to the club. James Coutts and Harry Nodwell also got valuable match practice as did keeper Regan Coward, whilst U18 players Lee White and Andy Suttle were named on the bench.

Despite the disparity in their league status, Poole Borough resisted Dorchester superior power for the first 45 minutes; the nearest the Magpies came to scoring was when Neil Martin's inswinging free-kick was tipped over the bar by Borough keeper Jakub Malara.

The visitors might in fact have snatched the lead near the break but Anthony Winders failed to test Coward from close in.

They paid for the miss as just as Saturday, Dorchester scored within a minute of the restart, Frampton volleying home when Malara dropped Nick Crittenden's corner.

The gloveman redeemed himself just before the hour when he foiled Mudge with a superb save, but from the resultant corner Moss glanced a header beyond him.

Vickers who was full of praise for Borough's determination, was pleased to have got the tie played, although the pitch was slippery in places due to the frost.

The Bob Lucas Trophy

Tuesday night's Bob Lucas Trophy match between Dorchester Town and Weymouth at the Avenue Stadium was postponed at the weekend due to the amount of snow covering the pitch and the anticipated adverse weather conditions expected on Sunday and Monday.

The game will now be played in the New Year on a date yet to be announced.

Hutch & Trevor's Christmas wish - bumper crowds and three points

WEYMOUTH manager Ian Hutchinson and Bridport boss Trevor Senior both had the same answer when asked what would be the ideal Christmas present for their club writes Stuart Broom.

Both however wished them for different reasons!

They also were asked what New Year's resolution they would make.

This is what they said:

Hutch

HUTCH hoped that a bumper crowd would turn up at The Bob Lucas Stadium on Boxing Day to watch the visit of league leaders Truro City.

"It would be a great boost for everyone if we could take three points against Truro; not only the team, but the fans and the management, both from a financial and confidence situation.

"The two clubs are miles apart financially and we know that it is difficult for us to be able to compete but three points would be a great Christmas present!"

"Keep fighting and keep believing!" was Hutch's New Year's resolution.

"I know we are doing that now and both Andy (Mason) and I are already committed to that but it is what we believe in, and that we can get out of it.

Considering the very difficult circumstances this club is in, it's an amazing achievement to be where we are and we want to take it forward.

"We want to keep the squad together; they are a great bunch of lads; and to nurture the young local players that we have here, they have been superb."

Trevor

TREVOR also wanted a big crowd at St Mary's Field on Monday (27th) for the visit of Chard Town, and three points.

"Obviously the money would help the club financially, but three points would boost the team and club as we go into the New Year looking to maintain the pressure on the top of the league."

Asked about a New Year's resolution, Trevor was adamant: "For the club to try and work closer with referees!"

Bridport Football Club have a poor disciplinary record this season, a typical example being when four players were booked and one sent off in the Dorset Senior Trophy game against Kingston Lacy which they won 7-0!

"Our disciplinary record is poor across the three teams and we need to do something about it.

It is costing the club a lot of money and we are losing players through suspensions which are hampering our selection possibilities.

"We need to work with the referees rather than oppose them; five cautions in a match you win 7-0 is ridiculous.

You can't take the competitive nature out of people, and nor do you want to on the field, but the players need to show some restraint.

"Each caution costs the club £10 a and a sending off £50 in county FA 'administration' costs, money a club like Bridport can ill afford to lose.

"The money the club pay out could be used on something different such as more kit, transport or a whole host of things.

"The club have been looking at the situation closely over the past month or so, and the managers have been asked to relay their thoughts to the players.

But at the end of the day it is down to the players to control their feelings."

Great season for Anders

SPEEDWAY and grass track racing sensation Anders Rowe has had yet another outstanding year on the track in 2010.

Eight year old Anders is sponsored by Impact Signs and attends Holy Trinity School in Weymouth. He recently won the Devon and Cornwall Championships, and last week found out that he had won the South West Youth Championships.

Anders, mascot this year for Swindon Robins and Newport Wasps, is in the process of having a Danish 80cc speedway bike built by his dad, Delwyn.

This is in preparation for the World 80cc Championships which he can race in when he is ten, in the summer of 2012. The Championships will see Anders competing in Denmark, Sweden and Poland.

Anders who has raced grass track every weekend since he was six, gears his life around his passion for the sports and will be competing in the under 15s 125cc section next year. Without a doubt he is on the right track for yet more superstardom in 2011.

Chance for ladies to kick off New Year and get fit!

WOMEN are being invited to banish their winter blues, and possible winter bulges, by playing football at the Thomas Hardy Leisure Centre in Dorchester in the New Year.

In partnership with the Dorset County Football Association, the centre is launching a women's six-a-side football initiative for ladies of all abilities and fitness levels to meet new friends, build confidence and, of course, get fit.

The scheme starts on Saturday January 29th and runs for ten weeks; each two-hour session promises to give a total body workout.

There's no need to have played football before, just be enthusiastic. By playing football regularly it will only take a few weeks before ladies notice an increase in fitness, as well as improved agility, balance, coordination and speed.

While many women may think of netball, hockey and tennis as more female friendly sports to get involved in, football is in fact the most popular participation sport for women in England right now.

Forget any notions of beer-swilling 'ladettes', with women's football you can just be yourself, as Arsenal and England star Faye White (www.faye-white.co.uk) can testify. "Football has always helped me to meet people and build my confidence.

I think it's a great way for socialising and anyone can play the game, it doesn't matter what level you are you can just play."

Leader of West Dorset District Council Robert Gould said: "Playing football regularly not only offers numerous health benefits but as a team sport it's a great way to get out and meet new people.

We're pleased to offer women's football as the most recent addition to a range of recreational opportunities to improve the health and wellbeing of communities across West Dorset."

Starting on January 29th the course finishes on April 2nd. Sessions run for two hours from 3.30 pm - 5.30 pm at the Thomas Hardy Leisure Centre, Dorchester on the artificial grass pitch. Initial sign up cost is £25 per team and thereafter sessions cost £2 per player per week.

Don't worry if you aren't part of a team, you can still join up as an individual or with one or two friends and coaches will help you match up with other players to create your own team.

RUGBY ROUND-UP

WITH KEITH JENKIN

No need to panic just yet

ONCE again the weather had the final say as far as the various league programmes were concerned on Saturday last, and all three local clubs had their games postponed, something that is beginning to cause concerns at all levels.

While one has come to expect one or two postponements due to adverse weather conditions in the course of a season, they usually occur during the months of January/February.

I do happen to know that Bridport have already had two games postponed, while Dorchester have lost no less than three. Weymouth have got off a little better than their neighbours and have only had one postponement.

The second and third sides have not escaped unscathed and, if the clubs lose another couple in the new year, then they will have considerable difficulty in catching up by the end of the season.

Let's not anticipate a complete shambles at this stage however and hope that the weather gods will relent. It's as well to be prepared for the worst though.

In fact there will be very little competitive rugby played locally during the festive season, although one or two clubs take part in an internal gallop, generally on Boxing Day.

Weymouth for instance throw their club house open, with anyone who turns up being guaranteed a run out if they bring a pair of boots.

The first Saturday of 2011 falls on 1st January, a day when many will be nursing hangovers, and the leagues resume on January 8th.

In the meantime may all have what they would wish for themselves this Christmas.

Ainslie back to winning ways

TRIPLE Olympic sailing champion Ben Ainslie saw a return to winning ways on Saturday, claiming one of Skandia Team GBR's three gold medals at the opening event of the 2010-11 ISAF Sailing World Cup series in Melbourne.

Ainslie's victory came amid a British clean sweep of the podium spots in the Finn class where he was joined by World Champion Ed Wright, who took silver, and Giles Scott in bronze position.

With the help of three wins in the nine-race qualifying series, the 33-year-old Ainslie, who is a director of the Weymouth and Portland National Sailing Academy, went into Saturday's double-points scoring medal race with a six point lead over Giles Scott, the World Championship bronze medallist and winner of summer's Skandia Sail for Gold World Cup event at Weymouth and Portland last summer.

Ed Wright was just one point behind Scott in third heading in to the final race. "Ed was going right and Giles was going left. I went with Giles," recalled Ainslie of his medal race tactics. "It (the wind) was slowly clocking left but there was a big right hand shift which lifted Ed."

Wright took advantage of the conditions to finish the medal race in second, which boosted him into second place overall, while Scott finished the medal race in third with a fourth place enough to hand Ainslie gold – his first since his return to Finn class racing this year.

Andrew Mills was Skandia Team GBR's fourth contender in the Finn medal race, finishing his regatta in eighth place.

INSIDE: Perry Street League mid-season review

CUP FINAL CONUNDRUM

THE entire local football fixture list was not surprisingly decimated by the heavy snowfall that covered much of the country on Friday.

The next match to look forward to is Monday's Coronation Cup Final between Lyme Regis and Perry Street at Combe St Nicholas' Slades Cross Ground.

The Seasideers are the holders having demolished old rivals South Petherton 4-0 on last season's Boxing Day.

The road to this year's Final began back in late September with a stormy 4-2 win at Merriott Rovers with midfielder Mark Bailey smashing home a 30-yard free-kick and scoring twice from the penalty spot to complete his first ever hat-trick for Lyme.

The quarter-final three weeks later brought a trip to Combe to take on the Saints' second-string. Jason Hawker headed Lyme in front but Combe, who look destined for relega-tion this season, fought back and it took a late winner from Adam Caddy to decide the tie.

Last month's semi-final resulted in the same score line against Devonians Farway United. The match was played in snowy conditions with the Seasideers' first team making their first appearance of the season at the Davey Fort - the delay due to the ongoing changing room renovations. Star of the show was Steve Batey who bagged both goals.

Batey will be missing from the Cup Final line-up as he, and goalkeeper Ashley Caddy, will be amongst the 100,000 supporters watching the England cricket team in the fourth Ashes test against Australia at the cavernous Melbourne Cricket Ground.

Lyme manager Robin Townsend has further selection problems. Defender Mark Batey is sidelined with a knee ligament injury, Julien Simier will be in his native France and Matt Laing is also unavailable.

Meanwhile the club is sweating on the Perry Street league officials verifying Malc Darby and Ben Whittington's eligibility as both have only played two league games so far.

Teenage Reserve team goalkeeper Will Meech will come in for Caddy.

A win for the Seasideers, who will still be strong favourites, would see them move to within one of the competition's all-time most successful team Merriott Rovers who have lifted the 58-year-old trophy on nine occasions. Squad (possible): Meech, Rowe, Darby, Clifton, Bailey, B. Whittington, Gostling, Ad Caddy (captain), R. Thomson, Hawker, Street, Fifer, Thirlwell, Brimicombe, J. Bond.
